Participatory Practice in Space, Place, and Service Design: Questions of Access, Engagement and Creative Experience
Vernon Press

Feb
2021 CONFERENCE: SERVDES2020 ONLINE WORKSHOP
Real-Time Co-Analysis: probing lived experiences and analysing material data
Co-convener: Yi Zhang

Invited creative practitioners who work with non-numerical data (visual/material/embodied/intuitive, etc.) as well as those who are interested in new ways to integrate co-analysis activities into their practice.

Oct
2020 CONFERENCE: PUBLIC PEDAGOGIES OF LOCATION ONLINE SEMINAR
Narrative Panoramas: surfacing tacit knowledge through material translation and co-analysis of lived experiences

Explored how to better understand how digital ecologies affect and reflect our lived experiences through reflective making and storytelling.

Aug
2020 CONFERENCE: DRS2020 (DESIGN RESEARCH SOCIETY) WORKSHOP
Narrative Dioramas: capturing tacit knowledge generated through reflexive language of lived experiences

This workshop investigated how participants can analytically engage with a lived experience through scaffolded making activities.

Jan
2020 CONFERENCE: AMPS EXPERIENTIAL DESIGN PRESENTATION & PAPER
Narrative Dioramas: Capturing new knowledge generated through storymaking within co-design activities

Presented PhD research that investigated how variations of performance, forms, and future imaginaries emerge in generative making methods, how they are shared through stories within workshops, and how best to analyse story data.

Mar
2019 CONFERENCE: MELBOURNE DESIGN WEEK WORKSHOP
Re-Imagining Data in Creative Practice

Invited participants to reflect on different types of data in their own practice, and examine the design decisions and activities that make that data known. The workshop interrogated and transformed preconceptions about what data might look like, feel like, and ways it might deepen one's own practice.
